The Time Is Now

by William Sheldon

The Time Is Now is a song by a professional wrestler, actor, and hip hop musician John Cena. It is the current entrance theme used by Cena. Currently wrestling for WWE, The Time Is Now is becoming a staple in the professional wrestling world. The song has been used by Cena in his entrances at various events, including the WWE Championship and the United States Championship.

The song was released on March 2, 2008, as the lead single from Cena's debut album, "The Time Is Now." The song features an uplifting message of empowerment and determination, with lyrics such as "Your time is up! My time is now! You can't see me! My time is now!"

The song has been widely praised for its catchy melody and powerful message, and has become a fan favorite at WWE events. Cena has often used the song to hype up the crowd and set the tone for his matches, creating a sense of anticipation and excitement.

The Time Is Now has also been used in various other contexts, such as movies and TV shows. For example, it was used in the 2008 film "The Spirit" starring塌 Farrell, and in the TV show "Glee" as the entrance theme for the character Finn.

Overall, The Time Is Now is a timeless anthem of inspiration and empowerment, embodying the spirit of overcome challenges and pursuing one's dreams. It continues to be a source of motivation for Cena and his fans alike.